

Welcome Prospectives

Hello everyone. I'm Luke Triton, the professor's apprentice, and I'm here to welcome you to BAPHL 11: The Boston Adventure of Professor Hershel Layton!

Apprenticeship with the esteemed Professor Layton carries many benefits, such as the ability to write a future BAPHL, but unfortunately, many copies of Layton have appeared, and we don't know which is the real one. We're guessing that the real Layton has already hidden himself away and will be waiting for you to find him. Defeat the imposters to get clues to the true professor's location!

You'll be going around to four locations today and sword dueling with the supposed Laytons at each one. And by sword dueling, we mean that they'll give you puzzles and you'll attempt to solve them. Through these puzzles, answers, and swords, you should be able to find some hint as to the location of the real Layton. When you think you have an idea of this location, give it to any of the Laytons/BAPHL volunteers and they should provide you with some more information.

When you've solved 3 of the 4 puzzles at a location or an hour has passed since you arrived, talk to a Layton to get the next location. Also, every puzzle is important to the Professor; make sure you keep every puzzle that you receive!

If you want to talk to us for any reason during the hunt, you can call xxx-xxx-xxxx (Anderson) or xxx-xxx-xxxx (Jon).

(Note: Nothing on this page is a puzzle.)
