

Quintuple Jeopardy!

LOCATION PUZZLE

UNDERGRAD

*All right contestants, who is ready to play Jeopardy?
All you need to do is... you know what, I bet you know this game by now.
Just be sure to buzz in when I finish reading the clues.
But it looks like the clues aren't where they're supposed to be.
Why would someone have done this?*

ART & ARCHITECTURE	INFORMATION AGE	WRITTEN FICTION	AROUND THE WORLD	APPETIZING OPTIONS
$100	$100	$100	$100	$100
$200	$200	$200	$200	$200
$300	$300	$300	$300	$300
$400	$400	$400	$400	$400
$500	$500	$500	$500	$500

CLUES & RESPONSES (in alphabetical order)

Horacio Rodríguez Larreta is the mayor, though arguably Argentina's president Alberto Fernández has some say in the capital city as well.

? is in charge of Buenos 5

Because unicode is a better standard for encompassing a larger range of characters across many languages (and even provides the much-desired ability to use emoji).

? isn't texting limited to 5 characters

Because his knowledge of fauna, which he relied on when writing The Jungle Book, came from Robert Armitage Sterndale, someone using the word bhalu for all bears.

? did Rudyard Kipling name the bear 5

At the northeast corner of Trum Field, next to the intersection of Broadway and Charles E Ryan Road.

? can I find a statue with an 5 on it

She was the author of Ethan Frome.

? was 5 Wharton

Not until after Labor Day, according to the QR code posted on the front door of 515 Medford Street.

? can I book an appointment at 5

In different host cities around the world every two years (alternating summer events and winter events).

? are the Olympic 5 held

Quintuple Jeopardy!

LOCATION PUZZLE

UNDERGRAD

CLUES & RESPONSES, CONTINUED (in alphabetical order)

Crete, which lies in the middle of the Mediterranean Sea just west of Cyprus.

? is the largest 5 island

Someone liking a tweet or someone appreciating a Facebook post more than a simple thumbs-up would imply.

? reacts with a 5

From 794 to 1868, until Edo was renamed to Tokyo and took over the designation.

? was 5 the Japanese capital

Because the art movement is literally named after his painting Impression, soleil levant.

? is Claude 5 considered the founder of impressionism

Oliver Chase produced them after inventing a lozenge cutting machine, renaming them to their current moniker after his company merged with other confectionery companies in the Boston area.

? created 5 wafers

It's a gathering place at 504 Medford Street for members of the eponymous organization.

? is the 5 clubhouse

The Academy of Motion Pictures Arts & Sciences has them cast in bronze and then finished in 24-karat gold plating.

? are 5 statuettes made of

After it is ground up and before it is grilled into a hamburger.

? is beef formed into a 5

Arguably in the early 20th century with simple matrices of monochromatic lightbulbs, but it wasn't popularized until the era of 8-bit and 16-bit video games in the late 20th century.

? was 5 art invented

Because the establishment at 37 Woodbine St has a sign implying that they would get better service in Moscow.

? can't 5 fans go to Zaruma Gold Coffee

Usually in a cup, perfect for adding the hot water needed to cook it.

? container does instant 5 come in

In the fictional town of Maycomb, Alabama, with her older brother, Jem, and her father, Atticus Finch.

? does 5 live

In dating apps such as Tinder, it lets the service know you are not interested in someone.

? does 5 left do

At any place that serves breakfast or brunch, or even your own kitchen as long as you have a slice of bread.

? can I get 5

Henry Cobb, despite someone else's famous signature on the side of the building (though it is simply called 200 Clarendon Street these days).

? designed the John Hancock 5

In text messages (and online messaging), as shorthand for "you're a cutie," because early text messaging was character-limited.

? is 5 used

In 1897, only two years after releasing The Time Machine.

? did H. G. 5 publish The Invisible Man

Because they're a popular appetizer at Olde Magoun's Saloon, but tenders are available as an alternative menu option.

? are chicken 5 on the menu