Everyday Disguises

These aren't celebrities at all! They're just regular folks going about their lives in multiple disguises.

Each section below contains a "disguise," in some order: one is an anagram of their identity; one has the same initials as their identity; and one has the same vowel-consonant pattern as their identity. (Treat y as a vowel.)

For example, a Fashion Critic might dress up as Ironic Catfish (anagram), Freshwater Clothing (same initials), and Mermaid Scales (same pattern).
