

Ornithological Communication Patterns 203

(this is not a puzzle)

GRAD

MBTA: #GreenLine: Shuttle buses replace Green Line service between Union Square and Lechmere due to a major avian activity at Union Square Station. We are totally wearing our concerned faces right now.

Sunday, September 10

Prof. Hugh J. Bird

Welcome to Ornithological Communication Patterns 203!

I've always loved teaching the basic building blocks of linguistics and communications, and you'll join me on that adventure in my class!

It looks like before we can get started, we'll have to contend with a bird even bigger than me! There's a giant turkey that looks steamed enough to destroy our classroom. No, not the normal-sized Somerville Turkey that's "big" on social media.

We have five feasible angles on how to put this adversary to flight:

Cryptocurrencies

Curved Tangrams

Drum Line

Just The One

Only Fans

Curved Tangrams uses location information, but does not require going indoors. But please support our local businesses if you can. Free outdoor seating can be found multiple places around Union Square.

Once you have clear results, we'll collaborate, with:

Strange Birdles